

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Time records of a professional are represented along a time line to provide readily accessible quantitative summary of time spent by the professional. The time records are represented as bars which represent transitions from one task to another and shades between the bars. Graphical user interfaces (GUIs) are associated with the bars and shades allow easy and intuitive entering and editing of time records.